They were so supportive and helpful.

10. In my opinion, the overall teaching-learning experience in our institution can be improved with better management and organization. Sometimes the management system seems weak, and teachers are often busy with other professional or administrative work. Because of this, students do not always get enough classes from the teachers. If the institution improves its time management and ensures that teachers get more time to conduct regular classes, it will help students understand the subjects better. Providing more interaction between teachers and students and arranging classes regularly will greatly improve the learning experience. I believe that better planning, proper scheduling of classes, and more attention to students & academic needs will make the teaching-learning process more effective and beneficial for everyone.

17. Please make the examination dates convenient to the students
18. Digital learning tools can be introduced. Providing better learning resources like updated library materials and good laboratory facilities will also help students. Regular feedback from students should be considered to improve teaching methods. Organizing workshops and skill-development programs can also make learning more effective and interesting.
19. Teachers can use digital tools, presentations and videos for better learning.
